WHISTLER WINES

Whistler Wines is named "Best Small Cellar Door" in the Barossa Valley by GT Wine Magazine.

Grape growing has been part of the Pfeiffer family way of life for four generations, beginning with Albert Heinrich Pfeiffer, who owned a vineyard in the Riverland region of South Australia. Albert would spend many hours in the vines with his son Hubert, working the vineyard in bare feet with his faithful Clydesdale, Bloss, before harvesting the grapes and selling them to local producers.

Hubert Irving Pfeiffer soon followed in his father's footsteps moving his family to a vineyard in Loxton. Hubert enjoyed wandering through the vines with his son Martin, and training both the vines and his young pupil, just as his father before him.

PURPLE HANDS

When two good mates got together, the inevitable had to happen and Purple Hands Wines was created. Their home vineyard – Stansborough is situated in the Southern Barossa just north west of Williamstown (Literally, a stones throw from the Winestains workshop)

The 32 acre vineyard is planted on perfect Shiraz dirt, friable red clay over limestone. The vineyard plantings include Shiraz, Montepulciano and Aglianico. The southern end of the valley is recognized as the "cooler" end of the valley, with slightly lower temperatures and longer ripening periods to develop flavours.

Craig Stansborough and Mark Slade started Purple Hands in 2006 from humble beginnings, making just 100 dozen the first vintage.

BELLO LUGAR BAROSSA

The historic vineyard was planted in the early 1900's, and once upon a time under water level, with river rocks running below the surface, currently sitting at 275 above sea level. Bello Lugar pride themselves on providing a natural, quality grape from the vine, to creating a quality, natural wine with minimal intervention throughout the entire process. With hand worked vines, they want their wines to reflect this.

Bello Lugar Barossa aim for the wine to be a representation of the season, and age in locally sourced French Oak, whilst being bottled and labelled locally.
